"Education is not learning of the facts but training of the mind to think"

- Albert Einstein

As the academic year gradually unfolds, the month of May arrives with a sense of purpose, progress, and perseverance. It marks the transition from the spirited beginnings of the year to a phase where hard work and achievements begin to shine through. This month has witnessed our students engaging in a variety of enriching activities—from academic milestones to co-curricular triumphs—all reflecting their dedication and enthusiasm.

May has also been a time of reflection and preparation, with students gearing up for upcoming assessments and school events. Teachers have continued to inspire and guide, nurturing not only intellect but also character.

In this edition of the newsletter, we proudly present glimpses of our students' accomplishments, special programs, and the vibrant school life that defines our shared journey. We hope you enjoy reading about the memories we've created together this month.

ACTIVITIES

BOOK DISTRIBUTION: Books are an invaluable resource for students, offering numerous benefits that extend beyond the classroom. By reading books, students can acquire knowledge, develop critical thinking, and cultivate empathy and creativity. In view of the distribution of NCERT and AWES Books for Classes I to VIII has been done from the School Book Counter for the smooth conduction of classes.

SELECTION FOR THE ETHICS BOWL: The Ethics Bowl is a transformative educational experience that emphasizes respectful dialogue, critical thinking, and ethical reasoning. Unlike traditional debates where students are assigned opposing positions, the Ethics Bowl encourages participants to collaboratively explore real-world moral dilemmas, fostering a deeper understanding of diverse perspectives. The Ethics Bowl selection process is a rigorous and competitive endeavor that aims to identify the most skilled and thoughtful students to represent the school. The Preliminary Round has been done by the expert teachers for the selection in ETHICS BOWL on 30th April 2025.

WEBINAR: Hemant Kr. Mali (PGT CS) has attended the webinar on AI for the Higher Secondary level and D. Narayan Rao (TGT Maths) has attended webinar on Capacity Building Workshop for TGT Mathematics for Competency based Lesson Plan conducted by FDRC. Both the webinars were a resounding success, providing a platform for knowledge sharing, networking, and professional development.

FDRC WORKSHOP: The National Institute of Advanced Studies (NIAS), Bengaluru, has pioneered the Education for the Gifted and Talented (EGT) programme, aiming to identify and nurture gifted children aged 0–18 years from diverse socio-economic backgrounds across India. FDRC has conducted workshops to sensitize educators about the needs of gifted children and to train them in identifying and nurturing these students. Chinmayee Mahapatra (TGT Science) and Jyoti Jagadishwari Dash (TGT Science) have attended the workshop from 22nd April 2025 to 24th April 2025 at FDRC, New Delhi.
